HOUSING AUTHORITY

The Housing Authority's conventional site-based waiting list allows applicants to apply for specific housing in five categories of public housing. Eligibility for each is determined by whether or not the applicant has met predetermined qualifications in a particular category. Section 8 Rental Assistance Programs offer rental assistance to persons with low-income who wish to live in homes in the private rental market, but cannot afford market rental rates. Section 8 participants pay 30 percent of their adjusted gross income for rent and utilities. The Housing Authority Assistance Payments Program subsidizes the balance of rent for the property owner.

DEPARTMENT OF DISABILITIES AND SPECIAL NEEDS

The SC Department of Disabilities and Special Needs, as defined in the South Carolina Code of Law, serves persons with mental retardation, autism, head and spinal cord injury and conditions related to each of these four disabilities. The agency's mission is to assist people with disabilities in meeting their needs, pursuing their individual possibilities and achieving their goals, and to minimize the occurrence and reduce the severity of disabilities through prevention.

MEDICAID - OCWI

(Optional Coverage for Women and Infants)

This is a program to help pay the medical bills for pregnant women and babies with low family income. The types of medical services that will be covered are:

- Doctor visits
- Hospital Care
- Medical transportation
- Prescription Drugs
- Family Planning Services
- Emergency Room Services

All medical services must be necessary and some services are limited.

When should you apply? If you are pregnant, you should apply as soon as you learn that you are pregnant. If you are applying for children's services, you should apply as soon as possible after the child's birth

Where should you apply? You may apply for Medicaid at your county Department of Social Services (DSS). Some county health departments and hospitals have Medicaid workers to take your application. Check the services listed under your county of residence in this directory for more information.

What information should you bring to apply?

When you apply for Medicaid, you will be asked to provide the following information:

- Proof of your income
- Your Social Security Card
- A pregnancy statement from your doctor
- Proof of child support/alimony payments
- Health insurance policy or ID card

If you cannot get this information, the Department of Social Services or the person who takes your application, is required to assist you.

Even if you have private insurance, Medicaid may pay for services that your insurance does not cover. For more information, call your county health or social services department or look under the listing of services offered in your county as found in this directory.

ADOPTION

One of the options or choices that is available to you and the baby's father is to place your child up for adoption. Adoption is the legal process by which permanent custody of a child is transferred from birth parents to adoptive parents.

The Division of Adoption Services at DSS or other licensed adoption agencies can help you. For more information, call the DSS state office at (803) 898-7318 or 1-888-CARE-4-US (227-3487) or check the services listed for your county of residence in this directory. At licensed adoption agencies, you will receive helpful, supportive services. You will be counseled about what is best for you, your baby and your family. You may have a part in the adoptive parent/family selection process. The final decision about adoption is yours to make, and the information you share with an agency is confidential.

At the DSS Division of Adoption Services, counseling services are free and may include the baby's father. You may receive help with hospital expenses and maternity home fees. Your questions will be answered.

CHILD SUPPORT IN SOUTH CAROLINA

The South Carolina Department of Social Services' (DSS) Child Support Enforcement Division (CSED) provides services to obtain child support money. These services include finding the parent who is not supporting the child, establishing and enforcing child support orders and establishing the identity of the father. Problems about property, custody and visitation cannot be handled by the CSED.

Who Can Get Help? Anyone who has custody of a child and who needs help in getting support payments may apply for services. Non-custodial parents may apply to have paternity established or to have their support order reviewed.

What is the Application Process? Persons applying for or receiving help under the Temporary Aid for Needy Families (TANF) program automatically receive child support enforcement services. Those not receiving TANF must complete an application form (there is a $25.00 fee). Applications are available at county DSS offices, and the county clerk court offices. You may also call CSED at (803) 898-9210 or 1-800-768-5858.

For more information, please check the services listed under your county of residence in this directory.

CARING FOR TOMORROW'S CHILDREN

The Caring for Tomorrow's Children program provides a book with guidance and information to create awareness and promote early and continuous prenatal care, well-child care, and immunizations. The book emphasizes the importance of prenatal care that will assist in reducing infant mortality and birth defects. The book also focuses on immunizations and other preventive measures to assist parents with keeping their baby healthy. Any woman in South Carolina, regardless of location or income, who is pregnant or who has a child under the age of one, can get a Caring for Tomorrow's Children book. The book is free and can be obtained by visiting a doctor's or health care provider's office, going to the health departments or by calling the Care Line (1-800-868-0404). The Caring for Tomorrow's Children program is a public/private partnership with the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control and Blue Cross and Blue shield of South Carolina.

CARE LINE

The CARE LINE is a toll-free statewide helpline. The CARE LINE provides information about health care for pregnant women, infants, and children. The CARE LINE also links callers to resources that are available in the community. If you or someone you know needs help finding a doctor, getting transportation to a doctor or health department, or finding services for children, the CARE LINE is here to help. We also have resources for families with children with special health care needs. Our friendly staff is ready for your call!
